My name is: Kerri (Kerhona) Thomas

My pronouns are: She/her

My job is:
Outreach Interventions Manager

The best part of my job is:
Working as a part of the Outreach team has challenged me to be quick thinking, problem solving, resilient and patient. It has helped me to recognise that I have a range of skills, though my own life experiences (as well as my time as a teacher) that I am able to draw on, in a completely different way! This has helped me to better develop strategies to engage hard to reach young people.

I have a real desire to influence young people's lives and to help them to see that they are valued!

Things I enjoying doing in my free time:

Being a mum to two wonderful children means that my free time is rarely free, though they give me purpose and all the love I could ask for.

Working out- I enjoying going to the gym and dream of lifting super heavy weights.

Art- Drawing, painting, museums…

Reading- I really enjoy, but currently not doing enough- I plan to change this!

I'm passionate about:

MUSIC- In all forms- Dancing, singing/shouting, festivals, concerts and music events and will learn to play my first musical instrument this year!

Food- I love cooking, EATING and am open to trying new things.

Adventure- I am a little bit of an adrenaline junkie (except for roller-coasters, un-fortunately) and love the excitement of these experiences. I hope to sky dive in the near future.
