VACANCY
Humanities/RSHE Teacher

Salary: Main Pay Scale/Upper Pay Scale plus SEN 1
Contract type Fixed Term Contract 1 year in the first instance
Hours: Teacher contractual hours

Newhaven School

Newhaven School is a complex organisation working with a range of young people. Please visit our website to learn more. There is potential for this role to be based in any of our different sites.

Newhaven School are seeking to appoint an enthusiastic, motivated and inspiring teacher who is committed to making a positive difference to the lives of vulnerable children, particularly those with SEND and associated mental health issues.

We are currently seeking an experienced Humanities and RSHE teacher to join our team. The successful candidate will be someone who can teach across the full age and ability range and be prepared to work collaboratively to teach other areas which enhance student’s cultural capital.

This role may well suit someone who is looking to further develop their pedagogy in a creative, non-mainstream environment.

Our focus on social communication and independence, alongside academic success, make Newhaven School an exceptionally supportive environment in which young people can overcome barriers to learning. Our highly-professional staff team are committed to enabling students to gain academic success, a keen sense of right and wrong, and to recognize their responsibilities as fully participating members of society. Our overarching aim is for all students to achieve fulfilling and ambitious destinations when they leave Newhaven School.

Newhaven was recently awarded “Trauma Informed School” status, in recognition of how we support children and teenagers who suffer with trauma or mental health problems. The good health and well-being of all members of the Newhaven community are central to our ethos.

The ideal candidate will:

- Be an outstanding classroom practitioner with the ability to inspire others and have a commitment to high standards.
- Have a proven record of good academic results with students of all abilities.
- Have a practical understanding that behaviour is communication and be able to motivate students who may display extremely challenging behaviour.
- Display innovation and an ability to inspire students with a range of needs.
- Able to contribute to a wider curriculum development within a SEND context.
- Have a passion and enthusiasm about making a positive difference in the lives of students with SEND, to ensure personal and academic growth.
- Actively participate in and offer areas of staff CPD.
